(don't use my name if you decide to publish this)

I passed the February 2006 Texas bar exam using Texas Bar Flash as a supplement to another course. This was my first time taking the bar.

Toward the end of my study time, I started running out of time to spend reading the large, convoluted and often repetitive outlines given by the other course. That's when Texas Bar Flash provided a tremendous boost. The outlines were succinct but covered everything that I actually saw on the state portion of the exam. It was especially useful for all of the last minute studying I did in my hotel room the evenings before the essay and short answer sections.

As a supplement, it is an incredibly effective tool that allowed me to study effectively during times when I was fatigued and tired of reading. Toward the end, I just didn't have the energy to read books that reached over eight inches high when stacked up on top of each other.

I graduated from school law school a semester early and have been reccomending Texas Bar Flash to all of my friends taking the 2006 summer bar exam.

I'm really glad that I got your "junk mail" advertisement in my mailbox.
Thanks again. It was the best fifty dollars I ever spent.
